

1. Events

Paper files

National Night Out (1991-2022), A Community Mosaic (script) (2008), February freeze (2021), luminarias (2021).

Digital files

Brentwood - Including Brentwood Elementary (2022), Brentwood Recreation Club (1954), McCallum High (2020), and Veterans Day (2006).

Crestview - Including Crestview Ice Cream Social (2012) (Voices of the Violet Crown display with Rob Burneson), Fire Station (2021), Food Drive (2020), Halloween (2020), Freeze (2021), and others.

Other - Including Good Neighbor Fest (2022) in North Lamar area.

2. Newsletters

Paper files

Brentwood and Crestview neighborhood association newsletters (2003-2023 - incomplete).

Digital files

Crestview Neighborhood Association (2012-2023 - incomplete).

3. People (Caucasian)

Paper files

Brentwood - Gladstone and Erna Swenson (longtime Ruth Ave. residents; memories of great-granddaughter).

Crestview - Chester Hjalmar Blomquist (early Aggie Ln. resident; tilemason) profile, Emory and Wanda Muehlbrad (longtime Aggie Ln. residents; oral history interview notes), "In Memoriam" article about Emory Muehlbrad and Mae Waggoner (2018) (Mae was a longtime Justin Ln. resident).

Other - John Hancock will from property abstract (owned property that became Allandale, Brentwood, Crestview, and Rosedale neighborhoods); stories of veterans meeting at Stallion Drive Inn, Crestview Pharmacy, and Dart Bowl (2022).

Digital files

Brentwood - Including Harry Akin (Nighthawk), Tom Cockrell (longtime barber), Ernie Kuehner (longtime owner of Ernie's Welding), Ben Joe Petmecky (Brentwood resident in 1950s), and others.

Crestview - Including Lynnette Alley, Mickey and Jim Bauer, Jon Becker

(employee, Arlan's, now Fresh Plus, Crestview Shopping Center), Blomquist family on Aggie Lane, John and Judy Carlson (longtime Princeton Dr. residents), Lonnie and Majorie Davis (longtime Dartmouth Ave. residents), Bob Harwood on Cullen Lane, Emory and Wanda Muehlbrad, J. D. Harper (owner, Crestview Pharmacy), C. H. Lester (owner, C. H. Lester Construction Co.), Neb and Helen Parson on Morrow Avenue, Howard Pringle (longtime Princeton Dr. resident; area builder), Frank O. Richcreek (owner of the farm that became Crestview), Mae Waggoner, Maude Yates (wife of Ray Yates, area developer), and profiles of neighborhood volunteers and veterans (posted on Voices of the Violet Crown).

Deaths - Information about Brentwood and Crestview neighbors who died between 2016 and 2022, including Marjorie Eichelberger Daugherty (granddaughter of Frank and Julia Richcreek, whose farm was developed into Crestview beginning 1947), who died in 2020; longtime Brentwood residents Al Evans and Barbara Zimmerman and longtime Crestview resident Gladys Gresser, all of whom died in 2022, with updated pages from Voices of the Violet Crown website, "Good Neighbors Remembered." Also, excerpts from the obituaries of Marion Prellop and Michael Prellop, whose family owned the Crestview Minimax grocery store in Crestview Shopping Center for many years.

Oral histories - List of people interviewed and questions asked by Susan and Rob Burneson during videotaped and informal conversations between 2003 and 2011. Includes updated screen shots from Voices of the Violet Crown.

Other - Harry Akin (Nighthawk owner), A. B. Beddow (Crestview developer with Ray Yates), ASH/Ave B folder (concerning Avenue B in Hyde Park, a resident who worked at the Austin State Hospital, and roses at ASH), Bone family (Wooten), Justin W. Dart Jr. and the Dart Bowl (Dart was the namesake of the longtime bowling alley that was first in Crestview and later in Brentwood; he was the son of Justin W. Dart Sr.), Doc Haile (Skyview-area airport), Eddie Joseph (owner, North Austin Drive-in, southwest corner of Justin and Lamar and other Austin properties, Joseph S. Koenig (developer, Violet Crown Heights in Brentwood and other Austin properties - Koenig Lane was named for him), Kenneth Threadgill (owner, Threadgill's on North Lamar; musician; his home at 4310 Rosedale has been designated an Austin historic landmark) and Roger Beck (musician; barber, Crestview Barber Shop; and friend of Kenneth Threadgill), Dick Tisdale (owned property in Crestview and Wooten; namesake of Tisdale Drive), Ralph Watts (area builder, as mentioned in Rosedale resident Karen Collins' Rosedale Rambles, available online), Frank B. (Benjamin Franklin) Wright (Austin-area stonemason and builder), and Wynonna Judd (compiled stories about the source of her first name).

4. People (African American)

Paper files

Notes about the Deloney, Doxey, Hancock, Medearis, and related families.

Brentwood - Obituary of Altee "Tee" McDade, believed to be a student at Esperanza School in 1934, according to Walter R. Davis. (This may be in error; see "Esperanza School" on violetcrownvoices.com.)

Crestview - Doxey land (excerpts from property abstract), correspondence and research notes of Leslie Wolfenden and John R. Clark about St. Paul Baptist Church Cemetery.

Digital files

Crestview vicinity - Including Mary Deloney and family, Spencer Doxey and family, and Hancock family (including Emma Hancock Wicks transcribed "Slave Narrative" (1938). John M. Gault 1860 Slave Census (possibly the family for whom Gault St. in Crestview was named).

Wooten area - St. Paul Baptist Church and Cemetery.

Pages from Voices of the Violet Crown (updated 2022), "Neighbors-in-History," with information about Deloney, Doxey, and Hancock families and St. Paul Baptist Church and Cemetery.

Clarksville - Seymour Washington and family.

Bluff Springs area - George W. Medearis and related families.

Mance Lipscomb - Austin connections of this Navasota, Texas, musician.

5. Places

Paper files

Brentwood - Faith Lutheran Church 60th anniversary celebration (2010).

Crestview - Crestview Community Character in a Box (includes photographs by Susan Burneson) (2014), Crestview Pharmacy (closed 2017), Crestview United Methodist Church 60th anniversary celebration (2013), Ryan Drive research (2018), "Saint" streets research.

Other - Arroyo Seco and Stephensville anecdote (2022), John Hancock home notes (Allandale) (2016), Rainhart Building research (2020), V-J Eve Celebration article (mentions local nightclubs) (1948).

Digital files

Brentwood - Including Abercrombie (2018), COVID flag home (2020), Cumberland Presbyterian (2021-2022), Esperanza School, Farmers Market (Burnet Lane), Frank E. Pease Subdivision (1950), "Groover" Avenue (2020), Hall Goodnight Planting Strip, North Loop (1937), Threadgills (2020-2022), Violet Crown Heights (1947), and two murals installed in the recently renovated and reopened Brentwood Elementary School (2022) - JeanMuralBrentwood.jpg (by Brentwood neighbor Jean Graham) and EvanMural0822.jpg (by Crestview neighbor Evan Hildebrandt, a Brentwood alum).

Crestview - Including 1807 Aggie Lane bomb shelter description, Capital Prefabricators, City of Austin Community Character in a Box (selected Crestview photographs taken by Susan Burneson, 2014), Crestview Baptist (photos by Susan Burneson, 2008 and 2014), Crestview Park / Crestview Village / Ryan Drive Working Group (2006-2022), Crestview Shopping Center (1950s-2022), Dartmouth Avenue, Richcreek property / Austin Development Company documents (from 1947 property abstract), St. Louis Catholic Church (1956), Violet Crown City Church (2021), Wall of Welcome mosaic project (2018-2022).

6. Miscellaneous (SRB)

Paper files

NextDoor private post by Susan Burneson about potential nomination as Crestview Neighborhood Association historian (2016); Harold Sherrill correspondence (2018); McCallum High School program ad (2019); Year of the Pig/Domino the Pig post (2/28/19), Neighborhood Spotlight: Crestview (3/11/19); Texas Historical Commission award submission (7/20/19); American Portrait "I Took a Risk When" post (4/27/20); "Common Ground" script for KUT Radio (broadcast September 2020); Gullett Elementary School Virtual Career Day script (March 2021); Brentwood and Crestview neighborhood association newsletter articles (2020 and 2021); Austin American-Statesman op-ed submission (January 2022); Ryan Eberly map giveaway on Buy Nothing Crestview (2022); Brentwood online group post about Jean Graham's mosaic Wall of Welcome and other contributions (2022); NextDoor post about Voices of the Violet Crown 2021 recap (2022); Violet Crown Community Works correspondence (2012, 2013, 2021, 2022).

Digital files

Susan Burneson's files related to Brentwood, Crestview, Voices of the Violet Crown, film A Community Mosaic (2008), and Violet Crown Community Works (including the Violet Crown Festival), including newsletter and journal articles, correspondence, A Green History of Brentwood and Crestview (2019), kudos, posts/comments, presentations, miscellaneous research (2900 Rio Grande, former home of Texas French Bread, which burned in early 2022), Violet Crown Community Works files (including Domino, mosaic Wall of Welcome, 2012 and 2022 files, and Violet Crown Festival), bronze sponsorship of the Violet Crown Festival (2019), annual summaries on the Voices of the Violet Crown website (violetcrownvoices.com) (2020-2022), Voices of the Violet Crown miscellaneous files (2023).

Also, files related to Susan's work as Associate Director, National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development, College of Education, The University of Texas at Austin, 1980-1993. Projects included work for the Community College

Leadership Program and related groups. Documents include: Correspondence about NISOD history project, 2018, and CD with NISOD publications created by Susan Burneson (in folder labeled NISODpubs041718). And, notes about co-worker Annie Elizabeth (Libby) Lord, who died in early 2018.

7. Brentwood Park, Austin, Texas, and park adoption group Friends of Brentwood Park (FOBP), made up of neighbors in the Brentwood and Crestview neighborhoods.

Paper files

Signed release forms for the making of the film We Planted 115 Trees by Rob and Susan Burneson (2010-2011).

(See also separate 2023 donations and paperwork from Emily Wilson and Hedrich Michaelson, co-founders of Friends of Brentwood Park.)

Digital files

Including various information about the leadership team and activities of the park adoption group Friends of Brentwood Park, founded in 2009.

See also A Green History of Brentwood and Crestview, created by Susan Burneson in 2019, under 6. Miscellaneous (SRB), above.